In respect to all the commodities named, there has been a great decrease in the cost of transporting to England. This may suffice as to coffee, tea, raw silk, flax, hemp, and indigo. In respect to other articles, named below, the following points must be considered: --Sugar. --A vast improvement in the manufacture and in refining-. Tobacco. --Free labor in the United States, already cheaper and more effective than slave labor. Wheat. --A revolution in the mode of production in the United States, and the change which the railroad and steamship have made in distribution. Butchers Meat and Leather. --Texas, Colorado, and the steamship combined. Cotton. --Free labor and steadily increasing supplies at less and less cost. Cotton Cloth and Yarn. --One operative now produces as much as three did in 1845-50. Oils. --The discovery and use of petroleum, and the use of cotton-seed oil. Timber. --The depletion of forests must have caused a rise in value. This is the only case of the kind in the list. Wool anil Tallow. --California, Australia, Texas, and Oregon, -with their vast flocks, unknown in 1845-50. Copper. --The Calumet and Hecla mines alone sufficient to reduce the price the world over. Lead and Tin. --Increased supplies, and low cost of transporting. Iron. --The Bessemer process, and all the other vast improvements in metallurgy and in mining. In all the other products, arts, and manufactures, who can measure the reduction of the labor cost Cannot one hand...
