

Push Open the Window: Contemporary Poetry from China

By -

Copper Canyon Press, United States, 2011. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Bilingual. 226 x 150 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. [It] was Tomas Transtromer who said that poetry was like the notes kids pass back and forth in the classroom, while that history teacher drones away at the podium. We are going to be hearing a lot about China in the next decade, about its economy, its foreign and environmental policies. It's going to be the work of translation that will give glimpses--human glimpses--at what's going on. --Robert Hass, The Believer Forty-nine of China's finest contemporary poets are represented in this luminous bilingual anthology, produced as part of the National Endowment for the Arts International Literary Exchanges. Profoundly influenced by the Cultural Revolution, the poets work reflects the turmoil of that time--from the blunt and sharply focused political work of Bai Hua and Yu Jian to the hermetic images and landscapes of the Misty poets. From Higher Duty by Shu Ting: On my way home, I stop by the market at Huangjia Ferry To buy a dozen eggs and half a watermelon Miffed that the greengrocer will not cut me a deal I pocket some green onions...

Reviews

A top quality ebook and the typeface used was interesting to learn. This can be for all who state that there had not been a well worth reading through. I am just pleased to tell you that this is basically the very best ebook I actually have gone through in my individual life and can be the finest book for at any time.
