VERBMOBIL: FOUNDATIONS OF SPEECH-TO-SPEECH TRANSLATION

Book Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: Springer, Berlin | In 1992 it seemed very difficult to answer the question whether it would be possible to develop a portable system for the automatic recognition and translation of spontaneous speech. Previous research work on speech processing had focused on read speech only and international projects aimed at automated text translation had just been terminated without achieving their objectives. Within this context, the German Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) made a careful analysis of all national and international research projects conducted in the field of speech and language technology before deciding to launch an eight-year basic-research lead project in which research groups were to cooperate in an interdisciplinary and international effort covering the disciplines of computer science, computational linguistics, translation science, signal processing, communication science and artificial intelligence. At some point, the project comprised up to 135 work packages with up to 33 research groups working on these packages. The project was controlled by means of a network plan. Every two years the project situation was assessed and the project goals were updated. An international scientific advisory board provided advice for BMBF. A new scientific approach was chosen for this project: coping with the complexity of spontaneous speech with all its pertinent phenomena such as ambiguities, self-corrections, hesitations and disfluencies took precedence over the intended lexicon size. Another important aspect was that prosodic information was exploited at all processing stages. | Mobile Speech-to-Speech Translation of Spontaneous Dialogs: An Overview of the Final Verbmobil System.- Facts and Figures about the Verbmobil Project.- Multilingual Speech Recognition.- Robust Recognition of Spontaneous Speech.- Fast Search for Large Vocabulary Speech Recognition.- Capturing Long Range Correlations Using Log-Linear Language Models.- Data Driven Generation of Pronunciation Dictionaries.- The Prosody Module.- The Recognition of Emotion.- Processing...
