It prepares its pupils for worthy home membership through its vocational activities, through its provision for play and physical education, through its library, and through its auditorium. All of these afford opportunities for self-activity, self-control and self-direction on the part of the pupils. It arouses in its pupils vocational interests and tests their aptitudes and tastes through the medium of its shops, its kitchens, its domestic art classes, and its mechanical drawing. The platoon school, with its studio, its music room, its literature room, its auditorium, and its library, appeals to the cultural side of child nature, stimulates the child's imagination, and prepares him to spend his leisure hours worthily and happily. Finally it may be conceded that all education should ultimate in the development...
